

2 3 4 5 6 7 cm
© Herzog Anton Ulrich-Museum Braunschweig

The lively portraiture of a most worthy Cittizen, Sir Thomas Gresham, who amongst many other acts (whereby he hath eterniz'd his never dying fame) did at his owne proper cost, build the Royal Exchange of London. Also He founded a colledge, and endow'd it with livings for 7 leaened men, for the reading of the 7 liberall sciences. &c.

Acto be souled by
Lo: Sudbu: & a Humb.

