

Printed by R. Smith, St. J.

King Henry the Fifth
Why have our Gentlemen?
Why do you in their presence thus give him
the mark of reverence?—Look you, how they charge!
How do they adore him!—Why, what credit give them?

SHAKESPEARE,
King Henry the Fifth

ACT II. SCENE II.
 (1) Southampton.—The King, Henry, Cambridge, Grey, & all the lords.
Paris—Paris, by J. O. A. Boscovich, at the Shakespeare Gallery, Pall Mall, St. J. St. Charles.

That look is wonderful!—I should your blood
Out of appearance!
Can I do myself any good?
And do not see it your highness' enemy?

Engraved by R. T. Smith
 St. James's St. St. J. St. Charles.

