

Engraved by J. Goussier

Man. It shall be possible, done by this sword,
That with profane my holding
You shall not find
You shall not perform (it must then) for the first

SHAKESPEARE.
Winter's Tale.
ACT II. SCENE III.

If any jewel will, shall not only be
Dread to himself, but to thy hand, long and wife;
Thine for the time, we pardon.

Engraved by J. Goussier

Printed and Sold by J. JOHNSON, at the Shakespeare Gallery, Pall Mall, in the Strand, London.

